PIONEER WASHER.
E. G. BOLTER,
AGENT FOR OREGON AND WASHINGTON TERRITORY.
THIS CELEBRATED WASHING MACHINE IS now for the first time introduced to the Oregon public. It is unrivalled for its simplicity, durability and the rapidity and ease of its action. Washing the dirtiest clothes perfectly clean in from five to ten minutes, with but slight labor, and lasting, with proper care, for ten years. The wear and tear of clothing in washing by this machine is vastly less than by any other known process of washing. It does its work by a reverse motion in forcing the water through the clothes.
It having a tight cover, the steam thus assists materially in cleaning the clothes, and also avoids the inhaling of steam from hot suds.
This Machine captured the Special Premium at the California State Fair, and all that have used it pronounce it an invaluable adjunct to all household cares and families and washing men and washing women.
It has been extensively introduced throughout the State of California, and receives the universal commendation of all who have used it.
THIS COUNTY RIGHTS, now unsold, will be sold at a bargain if applied for soon.

STEAMER
U. S. GRANT,
Will make Two Trips per Week to the CITY OF ASTORIA!
Carrying Passengers at $10, the Round Trip, (Meals Included.)
The Boat leaves Portland Wednesdays and Saturdays at 7½ A. M. Returning leaves Astoria Thursdays and Mondays at 6 o'clock A. M.
Every person purchasing a Passenger Ticket will be presented with one of 600 Prize Tickets, to be drawn on the 1ST DAY OF AUGUST, 1867, for the following Prizes:
Steamer U. S. GRANT, to be divided into 4 shares;
ONE BLOCK OF LOTS IN EAST PORTLAND, divided into 8 shares, or one lot to the share, viz: Lots 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7 and 8, Block 17, opposite the "New Columbian" Hotel, and at the terminus of the proposed Suspension Bridge;
ONE GOLD WATCH, worth $100;
150 CORDS DRY FIR WOOD, in 3 shares, to be placed on the Brooklyn Wharf.
The Steamer is 54 tons burthen, 52 horse-power engine, propeller wheel, draft of water 5 feet. She is being thoroughly refitted and refurnished as a Passenger Boat. The Boat will be delivered in perfect order, free from all incumbrance, and Warranty Deeds made for the real estate, to the persons drawing the same. Tickets can be had of C. P. FERRY, in Portland, where the money will be left on deposit till the prizes are drawn and delivered.
Any person having a claim against me, and wishing a ticket, can get an order for one by calling on me on board the boat. The person drawing the gold watch can have $100 in gold coin, if preferred.
C. P. FERRY, Broker, R. J. LADD, ex-Sheriff, AL ZEIBER, U. S. Marshal, and O. S. SILVER, Merchant, of Portland, are the Committee and Judges to direct the Drawing of Prizes. The Prizes will be drawn before the 1st of August, if all the tickets are taken before that time.
☞ The above liberal offer is made to the traveling public to enable the subscriber to pay his debts, and not with any reference to speculation, as all the property is valued at much less than its cost, (the Steamer alone having cost $11,000), and the price for carrying passengers to Astoria being much less than the usual fare.
Portland May 21, 1867. d2m J. W. KERN.

Notice.

OWING TO THE STEAMER U. S. GRANT having lost several regular trips, she will continue to run for a few weeks, to give all ticket holders an opportunity to travel. The tickets stand good for a passage as long as the boat continues to run. A few more tickets yet to be disposed of.

Phil. Sheridan.

WHAT GEORGE ALFRED TOWNSEND SAYS ABOUT HIM IN THE FIELD—THE HISTORIC FIGURE OF THE SHENANDOAH VALLEY—HIS TWO LIGHTNING QUALITIES OF PERCEPTION AND ACTION—HIS INSTINCT AND "WRIGGLE"—THE SIMOOM OF WAR.

[From the Correspondence of the N. Y. Tribune.]

The strong historic figure of this valley was Sheridan. He was the most perfect embodiment of the professional cavalryman that ever appeared on our continent. His two grand qualities were lightning perception and lightning action. When he came Eastward from the scene of his Western campaigns, he mastered the topography of the country so rapidly that it seemed he had climbed to some lookout, and examined it at a glance. He found the cavalry of the East handled by a vicious system, used for picket and cordon duty merely, its horses wasted by perpetual use to no result, and he laid down the broad principle that cavalry ought to fight cavalry, and infantry to fight infantry. In this, we can understand how, whenever he met the enemy's foot, he dismounted carbineers, although he had in a high degree that Murat eye for the weak point of a line of battle that a powerful cavalry column could penetrate. He used light infantry and cavalry together with marvellous unanimity, and his favorite plan of battle was to sweep upon the right flank with the former, and half-wheel the latter to hok in line of battle again. His history in the East comprehended altogether one year and five days, and sent an average of two captured flags every three days during all that time to the central Government. In the same period he sent a captured field-piece every two days, and his flags united were equal to all the other armies of the Union. He had instinct and "wriggle" in a wonderful degree, but it was always wriggle forward. He adapted himself to changed conditions with a bonhomie that was ludicrous, if fighting can be ludicrous, and still his decision was almost fierceness. If a newspaper correspondent could happen to keep up with him, he always said, "Come!" and in this respect he was high minded and thick skinned beyond any other General. He was invaded, when on one of his great raids, by two Richmond newspays, with the papers of the day. The General shook hands with them, and commended their enterprise in his official report. At the White House he found the bridge down; instead of sending eighty miles, as he was advised, to Fortress Monroe for pontoons, he sent out a thousand cavalry in different directions, commanding each man to bring back a plank; the bridge was up in six hours. He always shot his disabled horses in the enemy's country to prevent the enemy recuperating them and using them. His theories of war were axiomatic in expression and soldierly in motive. When he ordered the London Valley to be untenable for Mosby, he said: "As war is punishment and death the maximum punishment, if we can, by reducing its advocates to poverty, end it quicker, we are on the side of humanity. If war is fought only on the duello principle, those who live at home in peace and plenty will do so as long as the best youth of the country enlist in their cause."

Of Henry Gilmore he said: "He appeared to be the last link between Maryland and the Confederacy—I desired to sever that link."

Of Mosby he took this bold, original ground: "I believed him to be substantially a benefit to me; he prevented straggling, kept my trains well closed up, and dispbargred the provost duty at at least two regiments of cavalry."

Of one of his battles, he thus picturesquely says: "When the head of the column reached the summit of the hill, the moon rose from behind, and a medallion view of the column was disclosed as it crossed the moon's disc and attacked the enemy."

In camp or field, Sheridan was a rough soldier in his amenities; when he wanted a house in Winchester he took it; if he liked to lie down on the sidewalk he did so; he had literally nothing to do with rebels, no meat to eat with them, no hopes to exchange, and no threats to make. If he burned a mill he burned it without words or tears. There was not one civilian trait about him, no amplification, if he quarrelled with pretentiousness or deceit he did it as a bombshell way and was unappeasable afterward. A man said to me in Winchester: "I looked at him first and didn't like his looks; then I spoke to him and felt troubled. He was more like our men than any Yankee General I had seen. I was sorry from the first they sent him here." Sherman and Sheridan are men of parallel resemblances—combative, idiosyncratic, sleepless, original, decided; Sherman is thin skinned, nervous, with all the powers and defects of genius. A man of more arching intellect than Sheridan, but without the latter's wriggle and adaptability. The one is a geographical poet, whose march to the sea was like the swing of a great rhyme; the other a born rider, who likes as much music as the jingle of his spurs.

The scene on the 6th of October, 1864, when Sheridan's army deployed across the forty miles of the valley and moved northward, touching the Blue Ridge on the east, the Alleghany on the west, was of the most thrilling character that this historic region has to remember. Almost four years of war had left this Garden of the Continent as beautiful and fertile as the peace it threw away. Stone walls that the army could not burn protected the high rolling tillage. All the harvests had been gathered. Men and women sat waiting for the fruits to come, and anon to cap the mountain spires, that they might glide into the gossip of winter nights, and see their boys come home on furlough to share the apples roasted in the fire and the blossoming of popcorn on the hearth. The cattle were lowing in the straw; and pigs were plump for the butcher; the horses and mules were mounching for the long rest of half the year. Across the stubble upland the white turnpikes leaped from crest to crest, vanishing in the mountain gaps, or leading straight as beams from the North Star into the land of the invader. Like a more baneful beam of a more lurid tint, the army of the Shenandoah unfolded, and out of its forty darkening miles the flames of mills, and barns, and railway ties leaped up. Column and plumes moved northward, as if the force of Sampson swept on with their firebrands blazing, and before them cattle, and mules, and sheep, and teams were driven like the funeral of the animal creation; behind them were women wringing their hands, and a pall of smoke like a cloud on the mountains. The streams by night were of burnished gold, pulpitating with their reflected flashes, and by day the brand-marching draggon held for the Potomac, breathing gray and cindery. When he had passed, the summer had gone out of the winter nights, the familiar beasts were departed; only the dogs howled to see the women weeping.

To-day I stood on Milroy's Hill and looked again over this glowing creation. A harvest such as peace seldom knew is hung between the mountains. It trembles with desire when the reapers draw near. The mills are fewer, and here and there a blackened chimney arises; but the power, and the light are in the streams as ever, and even the woods are growing tall and strong once more. Not one family perished by the punishment of the burning of Sheridan. War departed all the quicker with its daily wayside murderers, and peace came all the earlier and fonder.

Speaking of Grant's letter to Johnson, an Eastern journal says:

It is easy to see now why the President was so reluctant to let it appear. Mr. Johnson would far rather have submitted to the extraction of one of his molars than to have parted with this proof of Gen Grant's full sympathy with the loyal millions of his countrymen in his views on reconstruction. Think of Andrew Johnson claiming that Grant and himself were in full accord on the great questions of the day. He would have given much to have the people believe so until after the fall elections, but the

The Ambitious Young Man Appears Again

A good deal of concern is being manifested among Democratic politicians to know just what Mr. Semple is driving at It is too evident from his course that he has designs on Democratic Conventions which are decidedly antagonistic to the aspirations of many of his party brethren A powerful, and we may as well add, a painful, effort is being made to push him into favorable notice. He has become Barlah's ward, and the patron spares no pains to keep the protege before the public. The former goes to the extent of granting the latter the free use of the Herald to sound his own merits and praises, and the rest of the crowd look on with deadly jealousy and bite their nails in angry disappointment. It has been about two weeks since the favored one made his first appearance in print, and now he comes again He seems to have been promoted to the post of junior editor of the Herald, and to be making the most of his opportunity to sound his own trumpet. The fortnight that intervened between the publication of his letter to Senator Williams and the appearance of the editorial in the Herald of Friday, has not been misspent. Of this, the editorial itself affords abundant proof. That article is evidently the product of this fortnight's incubation. As the fruit of the author's leisure and retirement we have a column devoted to the pedigree and history of the "marvellous boy." Little Eugene was born at an early period of his life, and was the son of his father, who by some accident got into the United States Senate and served half a term. With this capital the son started in life, and on this he has been doing business ever since. He enlisted among Lincoln's hirelings at the commencement of the war, but not getting the commission he wanted he quit the service in disgust within three months from the time of his enlistment. Another reason for this action was that the abolitionists in the army had manifested a disposition to kill rebels and destroy their property; and not approving of such measures our hero's only course was to abandon the army. He then came to Oregon, probably with a determination to be beyond the reach of the unhealthy draft that so frequently swept over the Eastern portions of the country during the rebellion. He was first heard of in this State at the late Democratic meeting at Dallas. His next appearance was in the letter he addressed to Senator Williams. And now he appears before the public through the Herald, in an editorial a column in length, on that great topic, himself. Among his other claims to renown the great fact is mentioned that he "meets men at the bar and wins no contempt in the conflict." That is doubtless true. But it may be unfortunate for some readers that the particular kind of "bar" was not specified. It will probably be the opinion of most people that the young man would do well to avoid any further effort to build up his greatness after this fashion, on his own merits; but that he should rely on the fact that his father was once a Senator for half a term—trusting to this and to the efforts of his ancient relation of the Herald to make a man of him.

A Fearful "Despotism."

The protesters against the results of our great conflict are bawling themselves to hoarseness in inveighing against the "despotism" which is said to have been fastened upon the vanquished enemies of the country. What occasion is there for this excessive indignation? Despotic as the military governments of the South are declared to be, there is more freedom now in that section than there has been at any time for the last thirty years. Never until now, has there been free speech or a free press in the South. Never until now has there been any safety for persons holding opinions different from those of the pro-slavery oligarchy. The mobbing of "abolitionists" has been stopped, and Sumner, and Phillips can speak in Richmond and Montgomery if they choose to do it. Four millions of people, instead of working for masters, now enjoy the fruits of their own labor. All are alike protected, and all are alike amenable to law. This is the "despotism" which is so vehemently denounced. Even such gallows cheating traitors as Toombs, Wise and Stephens are not molested in the smallest degree. None of them have been deprived of personal liberty or the rights of property. Men who declare that their only regret for the past is the failure of the rebel cause, are permitted to make speeches anywhere without molestation; and those who openly declare their enmity to the country to whose clemency they owe their lives, publish appeals to the people urging them to oppose and resist the laws enacted for the restoration of the Union. Public journals preach treason as boldly and defiantly as they did in the days of armed rebellion. All this is done with perfect impunity, and if in exceptional cases any one is molested, the act is promptly rebuked. Witness the recent order of Gen. Ord in Arkansas, censuring an officer for suppressing a paper for its violent utterances. The truth is there has never before been so near an approach to liberty in the South. Nothing could be more senseless than this persistent talk about "despotism." There is one thing in which there is not perfect liberty according to the Copperhead idea, and that is that the principal leaders of the rebellion are not allowed to return to Congress to rule the Government they attempted to overthrow. This is what makes the reconstruction scheme of Congress, in their view, an "unlicensible despotism."

COPPERHEAD HONESTY.—During the late canvass in California the San Francisco Examiner, the leading Copperhead organ in the State, assailed Gorham, the Republican candidate for Governor, with the most violent vituperation and the most vehement personal abuse. It accused him of being the tool of the monopolists and money grabbers and declared that he was in league with corrupt combinations to rule the State. But it now declares that Gorham is the pink of honesty, and that he was shamefully betrayed by his party It assails the Bulletin and Union for their course and declares that "no viler case of treachery can be referred to in the history of politics," than their opposition to Gorham! This is a very fair illustration of Copperhead honesty. The object of the Examiner is to excite discontent among Gorham's friends, and induce them to "bolt" the nominations in the coming Judicial election. The Bulletin and Union support the nominees, and in the hope of securing a party advantage the Examiner does not hesitate to proclaim its own infamy in this brazen manner. Its action is a confession on the part of the Copperheads that they are actually a minority in California.

The Herald whines dismally over our exposure of its ignorance in publishing a letter signed "Ira E. Harris," under the impression that Senator Harris of New York, was its author It says that if it was fooled, old Bennett of the New York Herald was fooled also. Not so. Bennett did not assert that the letter was written by Senator Harris. It was probably got up by his own order, but with the object of conveying the impression that Senator Harris wrote it. Bennett published the letter to gull fools, and it seems that he succeeded admirably.

Henry A. Wise of Virginia, rebel, takes a consistent Democratic view of the obligations of the Government in regard to the national debt. He has taken the stump in Virginia boldly advocating repudiation, and asserting that the national debt is illegal because the war on the South was unjust. The whipped rebels and sympathising Copperheads agree precisely on this question.

OUR SAN FRANCISCO DISPATCH.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 4.—The opposition steamer America will sail to-morrow morning

During several days past, Chief Crowley has been applied to in numerous instances to send men to the vicinity of the old Pioneer race course, to prevent apprehended violence on the part of land squatters, as persons whom they might attempt to dispossess, application being made by both parties from the old race course on 22d street to the creek running along the base of Bernal heights. A large number of squatters' houses and fences have been erected, and in most instances the invaders hold possession There is an organization numbering in the neighborhood of two hundred men, constituted for the express purpose of getting and holding lands which have been in the possession of others; and now it is stated that the original holders are organizing for the purpose of recovering the lands of which they have been dispossessed Thus the business assumes a very serious phase, and the authorities are apprehensive of violence and bloodshed At present the operations of the squatter's organization are confined chiefly to the territory above described, but in pursuance of their object and plans it is quite likely that other districts of the outside lands will become the theatre of similar transactions.

James Gorham has been arrested, charged with stealing a horse and buggy which had been left standing on Montgomery street Gorham was sent to the County Court for trial.

Thomas Collins sues the California Steam Navigation Co., to recover $50,000 damages for injuries which he alleges he received by scalding at the time of the explosion on board of the steamboat Yosemite, on the 12th of October, 1865

John N. Murphy and James B. Reynolds, of Idaho, met on Montgomery street last night, when Murphy attempted to cane Reynolds, but the canes was stopped by the bystanders. Murphy was last winter nominated by President Johnson for Governor of Idaho, but the Senate refused to confirm the nomination Reynolds is editor of the Idaho Statesman, and about a year ago it published a statement that Murphy had been indicted in Oregon for the embezzlement of public funds while he was City Recorder at the Dalles. After Murphy went to Idaho he held some official position in Idaho City, and the Statesman again charged him with being an accessory to the robbery of the County Recorder's office, when Murphy was in Washington last winter Those statements of the Idaho paper obtained a wide circulation in that city, and had the effect of causing his rejection in the Senate His assault upon Reynolds, yesterday, is supposed to have been intended as a vindication of his reputation

By the steamer Montana yesterday arrived twenty one ship carpenters and nineteen caulkers under engagement to the P M S S Co and C S N Co, with whom they contract to work ten hours per diem for five dollars and fifty cents in gold The company is to be remunerated for the passage of each man by a deduction of one dollar from each day's wages till the amount of $160 is paid It is stated that the workmen, carpenters and caulkers, who have heretofore been employed by the company will refuse to labor with the New York men the former being pledged in their several associations to adhere to the eight-hour rule

In his admirable letter to Johnson protesting against the removal of Sheridan, Grant described the "unreconstructed element" of the South as "those who did all in their power to stop this Government by arms, and now wish to be the only element consulted as to the method of restoring order." Is not the man who has the clear conception of the situation which these words imply, worthy to be implicitly trusted by the loyal masses in any capacity whatever?

The Democratic idea of gentlemanly demeanor in politics is extremely fine The foster-father of Semple Semple says that the address of his protege to Senator Williams was "respectful!" The address contained such language as this "To think you believed in all that you told the people would be to deny your claim to ability You have no faith in what you preach. I will charge you before the people with disingenuousness and corruption, with using the dignity of your office to aid you in practising gross impositions," etc, etc This language the Herald calls "the respectful address of a citizen." Such a remark very fairly illustrates the idea which blackguards have of amenities of intercourse between gentlemen

A Washington dispatch of September 9th says "The Southern people here say that the Amnesty Proclamation will injure the President even in the South. Most of the classes to whom he has granted amnesty have been specially pardoned, especially Brigadier Generals In Virginia, but one rebel who was a member of the United States Congress, and subsequently elected to the Confederate Congress, is pardoned Thomas S. Bocock, Gov. Vance of North Carolina and others whom the Proclamation pretends to exclude from the amnesty, have been already pardoned. The document is looked upon from the Southern stand point as the merest buncombe"

A dispatch from Washington dated September 9th says "The arrant humbug Colorado Jewett is here again conferring with the President, and pretending to make important political relations of an impending revolution." It only shows what depths of infamy Johnson has reached when he employs such characterless instruments to serve his despicable purposes.

EXPERIMENT IN ACOUSTICS.—Those persons who have had business to transact in the new court room of this county, have always been extremely annoyed by the reverberations of sound in the room. It has always been difficult for the bench, the bar, the jury and witnesses, to understand each other. There has been a prevalent theory among them all, that the dome was somehow the cause of the trouble. Accordingly, the County Commissioners authorized the construction of a temporary ceiling to shut up the opening of the dome. The ceiling being up, quite a number of the bubbles of the court room were ferried up, yesterday, to test the value of the experiment. The most of those who went, expressed the opinion after reading and speaking in the various parts of the room, that the ceiling in part at least, remedies the difficulty. The room yet has too much reverberation and the evil is only partially abated. One architect advises the cutting off of a part of the room for the purpose of destroying the existing foci of the several dimensions being multiples of each other, which, he says, is a false proportion in acoustics. Others suggest draping the walls to prevent reflection of sound. Something should be done, as the room, as now, is about as disagreeable a place as could be imagined, both for speaker and hearer.

THE STATE FAIR.—A correspondent at Salem, writing of the coming State Fair, under date of Oct. 2d, says:

The interest here and the general belief is that the Fair will exceed any previous one ever held in Oregon. The Agricultural Society is improving the grounds; the race track was never in so fine a condition; a dozen or more restaurants and fruit stands are being erected; they have made several needed changes in the rules and regulations, which will aid in inspiring confidence in the utility of this annual exhibition; they have constructed more wells; have offered a larger list of premiums; there are several new stables and stalls outside the fence; they will continue the Fair six days, fr m the 7th to the 12th, inclusive; there are now on the ground more stock than ever before, so soon, and the Marshal anticipates from present prospects an unusually large exhibit of stock, and if favored with fine weather, very large crowds are expected. To add variety, the circus is here: the Wizard will be here, and nobody knows how many other attractions. All the hotels are enlarging their borders. The P. T. Co.'s boats will make four trips at reduced fare during Fair week.

IN MEMORIAM.—At a meeting of Willamette Fire Engine Co. No. 1, held on Thursday evening, Oct. 3d, 1867, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It having pleased an all-wise God, in His infinite wisdom, to remove from our ranks our late associate and fellow member, Albert H. White, therefore, be it

Resolved, That while we bow in humble submission to the decree of an over-ruling Providence, we can but mourn the loss of our late friend and associate.

Resolved, That to the sorrowing family of the deceased, we tender our heartfelt condolence in this their hour of affliction.

Resolved, That the Engine House be draped with the usual emblems of mourning for the period of thirty days.

Resolved, That the foregoing resolutions be published in the daily papers and a copy transmitted to the family of the deceased.

THE "VANCOUVER REGISTER."—The Vancouver Register, after a suspension of a couple of weeks, while changing editors and publishing management, was issued again last evening, under the editorial control of Mr. S. W. Brown. In his salutatory, he says:

We have undertaken to edit the Register with no mean opinion of the responsibility, or exalted idea of our capacity to discharge it. But looking to Him for strength and wisdom who is infinite in both, and relying on a generous public for its sympathy, we shall do the best we can to fulfill our engagement.

The Register is to be "Union in politics," but devoted largely to miscellaneous reading, and the interests of Washington Territory, and especially to that portion of it with which it is locally and more particularly identified.

CIRCUIT COURT FOR CLATSOP COUNTY.—Judge Shattuck held a term of the Circuit Court for Clatsop county at Astoria this week. We learn that there was only one criminal case—State of Oregon vs. Denny; indicted for an attempt to rescue a prisoner from the custody of an officer. The defendant was acquitted. There were two chancery cases, in both of which decisions were reserved. One of these was brought by Col. Swan against Cyrus Olney to compel the execution of a deed to a lot drawn by the complainant in the late lot scheme. Payment of the sum for the lot, was delayed by McEwan for more than four months, and when payment was tendered, Olney declined to accept and refused to execute a conveyance.

FOR THE STATE FAIR.—Mr. Lot Livermore, formerly of this city and now of Umatilla, arrived here Thursday evening on his way to the State Fair. He has in his charge a magnificent counterpane, of crochet work, made by Mrs. Louisa Gimlnal of Umatilla, which will be exhibited in competition for a premium, at the Fair. In its construction were used some 25,000 yards of thread, and it required the work of two years' constant labor. Mrs. Gimlnal has been several years engaged upon it; but has kept account of the time spent in making it and the aggregate is as above stated. The pattern is a beautiful one and cannot fail to attract general attention.

ROUND THE BLOCK.—A Yamhill team of horses, unaccustomed to city sights and sounds, got frightened yesterday morning while standing on Front street, and at once started on a dying tour of the city. They first tried the McAdam street, from Taylor down to the New Columbian, thence by the Nicholson pavement to Alder street, up Alder to First, then up First to Taylor again, where, in turning the corner somewhat carelessly, they upset the wagon and spilled it all around the street in the most promiscuous manner. Of course, after this there was nothing more for the team to do but to stop, and it stopped.

RECORDER'S COURT.—In the Recorder's Court, yesterday, the following proceedings were had: The charge against Jos. Kafka of uttering threats against the life of M. Feiser, was dismissed. In the case of the China woman, held to answer for keeping a bawdy house, bail was fixed at $250, each. George Heachy, arrested on the charge of stealing $100 of James Kloop, had an examination, and no evidence appearing to connect him with the transaction, was discharged.

CARTING AFFRAY.—A driver of the opposition line of stages from Monticello to Olympia, got into a quarrel Thursday afternoon at Monticello, with a driver on Davis & Granger's line, during which the former stabbed the latter in the groin with a knife, inflicting a severe though probably not a fatal wound. Yesterday, when the Julia left, the wounded man was in a comfortable condition, with no unfavorable symptoms, though he had suffered severely the evening before.

FIRE ALARM.—At about a quarter past seven o'clock yesterday morning, a chimney in the dwelling house of Mr. Southworth, in the northern part of the city, took a notion to "erupt" and thus created a fire alarm. The fire companies were promptly out and the boys of No. 1 and No. 3 had a splendid race down First street, but their services, happily, were not needed. The fire was extinguished by other means before the engines reached the house.

BIG NEWS FOR THE JOHNNIES.—The anti-annexation Johnnies of Victoria need no longer shiver with dr.ad that their little colony will be spilled on to the United States. They are as safe as though the impassable gulf were between them and us. Mr. Tilly (glory to Tilly,) the Dominion Minister, writes to a Victorian that he will "never consent." While Tilly lives, the blasted, bloody Yankees can never lay "ands hunto "er majesty's c lony of B. C. 'Tis well.

AMENITIES AMONG FIREMEN.—At a special meeting of General Allen No. 3, Sept. 13th, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That our sincere thanks are due the "Portland Fire Department" for the kind and hospitable manner in which our company was received and entertained by them, on the day and evening of their late annual parade.

BARN BURNED.—During the night of October 1st, the barn of Mr. P. Raleigh, in Yamhill county, was destroyed by fire. There were in the barn three mules, one horse, two wagons, harness and farm tools, and two hundred and fifty tons of hay, all of which were burned. The fire is supposed to have been the work of an incendiary. Probable loss, about $4,000.

GRAPES.—Messrs. Hibbard & DeLashmutt, grocers on First street, sent this office, last evening, a liberal number of very nice California grapes of the Isabella variety, for which all hands unite in thanks. Messrs. H. & DeL. have plenty more where those came from.

OFF FOR CALIFORNIA.—Mr. A. C. R Shaw, one of the pioneer settlers of Oregon, left this city with his family, Thursday afternoon, to take up his future residence on a ranch near Oakland, California. He makes the journey overland, with four wagons and twelve horses.

U. S. CIRCUIT COURT—DEADY, JUSTICE.—Friday, Oct. 4: United States vs. H. W Davis et al, motion by defendant for continuance, overruled.

Jos. Hicks vs Ira Spencer; hearing of argument on demurrer set for Monday, the 14th.

BASE BALL.—The 1st nine of the Athletic Base Ball Club and the 2d nine of the Spartan club will play the first game of a match, at 2 o'clock this afternoon, on the grounds on the east side of the river.

THE SAM MERRITT.—The Julia from Monticello, yesterday afternoon, reported the Sam Merritt at Rainier, in tow by the steamer Ranger. She will probably arrive here this morning.

TREASURE RECEIPT.—Wells, Fargo & Co received by the boat, on Thursday evening, $15,000 in treasure from the Upper Columbia—nothing received last evening.

VICTORIA PAPERS.—We are under obligations to Capt Erskine, of the Eidolster, for files of Victoria papers, to the 2d inst., the day of sailing.

BOND FILED.—Mr Jacobi, the newly elected Marshal, filed his official bond yesterday, and entered upon the discharge of his duties.

FOR OREGON BARGE.—Harmon Penn have now on hand full suits of extra sizes in clothing, and offer them for sale at the lowest market price on corner of Front and Morrison streets, Portland.

LIVERANCE AND RASHNESS in ancient times often caused man to challenge each other, but in these days, where people are more enlightened and jealousy is not such a vice as in centuries past a challenge is not considered gentlemanly and therefore not accepted. The public will be amply rewarded by calling at the store of Kohn & Fishel, No. 91 Front street, where, without the least shadow of doubt, the best clothing is to be found, and price no object.

AUCTION SALES TO-DAY.—At 10 A. M. to-day, Mr A. B. Richardson will sell, at his salesrooms, large lots of furniture, groceries and general merchandise. At 2 P. M. he will offer for sale, at the Court House door, some valuable lots belonging to the estate of C. N. Humiston, deceased. For terms of sale, see advertisement.

GONE TO THE FAIR.—We missed the smiling face of Capt McCormick, from its accustomed place behind his counters, yesterday, and upon inquiry, learned that he had gone to Salem to establish his literary bazaar at the Fair grounds.

PRIVATE SCHOOL.—Miss Mary Bird will open a private school on Monday, the 7th, at the corner of Third and Hall streets.

Attention is called to the new advertisements of Parrish & Atkinson.

LETTER FROM BAKER COUNTY.

BAKER CITY, Sept. 30, 1867.

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

In my last I expressed a hope that our country hereabout would not be again molested by hostile Indians the present season, but the paper containing my communication had not reached here when we were shocked by the horrible intelligence that on yesterday afternoon, as John B. Scott and wife, of Burnt River precinct were returning from Rye Valley, they were set upon by a band of Indians, and Mr. S. killed, and Mrs. S., it is feared, mortally wounded.

They were riding in a two horse wagon, and after Mr. Scott had fallen senseless into the wagon bed, Mrs. S. thought herself shot once through the lower limb, took the reins and whipping the horses into a run, drove though the ranks of the yelling savages, and three miles home—twice stopping to open as many fences—thus almost miraculously saving herself and dying husband from a fate which we shudder to contemplate. Mrs. S. has been suffering so much, both physically and mentally, since the death of her husband which took place an hour after reaching home, that she has been unable to give full particulars of the awful tragedy.

About a week ago the California Hotel at Auburn was robbed of some $250, the money being taken from a room occupied by a poor childish old man familiarly known around here as "Old Mark." On the night of the 28th inst., some as yet unknown person took poor old Mark and hung him up by the neck twice until he was nearly dead, as he says, (and his neck plainly shows the fact) to try to make him tell what became of the stolen money.

The better class of community here are indignant ("indignant" I say for want of a stronger term), at the proceeding, as "Old Mark" has been known here for four or five years as an honest and industrious, though weak minded man.

By the way, I have never seen an account in any of the papers of the killing of Patrick Tioman by one Parker, at Clark's creek, about a month ago. It appears that Tioman had been slandering Parker's family, and on being called to an account for it, added insult to injury, whereupon Parker shot him with a Henry's rifle, killing him instantly. Parker came over to Auburn and surrendered himself, and was held to answer at the November term of the Circuit Court.

Yours, OCCASIONAL.

SHERIDAN AT ST. LOUIS.—General Sheridan was in St. Louis on the 10th of September. Of course he received an enthusiastic welcome. Carl Schurz made the welcoming speech, of which we present extracts:

"But in you, sir, the people see more than merely a man who can wield a sword, ride down hostile battalions and handle an army on the rough edges of battle; in you the people honor the glorious model of the American soldier [cheers]; the soldier who is no mere unthinking machine in the hands of a superior will, but who knows what he is fighting for, and whose brave soul will never rest until the victory of his arms has received its true value in the assured triumph of a great cause. In you they honor the man whose eagle eye not only never failed to seize the decisive moment on the field of battle, but seized with equal certainty the decisive points of the great problem of our day, but only as the bold rider of Winchester and hero of the Shenandoah Valley and the Five Forks, but as the hero of the Fifth Military District. General Sheridan, we welcome you as an honest man. Sir, you have achieved a triumph not inferior to your exploits as a soldier; you have not only shown to the enemies of the country the invincibility of your arms, but the very men who hate you, you have forced to respect and esteem you, in spite of themselves. Even now voices are coming up from the South—voices of men who abhor the authority you exercise—voices which say: We detest the laws which placed him over us, but Sheridan is a man. Dark as the horizon may appear, the day is not far when the struggles we are now passing through will lie behind us in the record of history, the day when the whole American nation, North and South, willingly recognising the beneficial results of this great revolution, will again be united hand and heart; when the Republic will throw her broad shield over the civil and political rights of all her citizens, whatever their birth-place, creed or complection, and when the people of these States, the people in the broadest sense of the word, will again go on, growing and prospering in the loyal exercise of local self-government. Yes, it will come in spite of the rebels, who have lost their fight but did not lose their rancor; in spite of the insiduous intrigues which seek to delay it, it will come. Then, General, you will gather your proudest laurels of triumph. The people of Louisiana and Texas will say, blessed be the day which gave us the secure reign or hearty loyalty and impartial justice, and blessed be Sheridan, who so bravely broke the road. And the people of all the States will joyfully repeat what they already say. As the gleam of Sheridan's scout showed us the road to victory, so the gleam of Sheridan's mind showed us the road to peace. As the champion of peace, through justice, as the representative of popular thought, General Sheridan, we welcome you.

☞ BRONCHITIS OR CHRONIC SORE THROAT.—It is attended with irritation of the bronchial tubes, which convey the air we breathe into the lungs. This irritation produces sore throat, hoarseness, coughing, and sometimes spitting of matter streaked with blood. If it is neglected it will extend down to the lungs, and settle into confirmed consumption. ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will be found a most valuable remedy for curing this disease, and prevent its running into Consumption.—Sold by dealers in family medicines generally.

We should not suffer from a Cough, which a few doses of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL will cure. Time, comfort, health, are all saved by it.

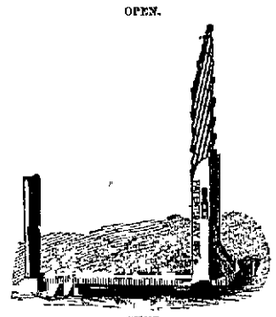
LEE'S
AMERICAN VERTICAL PICKET FARM & CARRIAGE GATE!
PATENTED JULY 11TH, 1865.
OPEN.



SHUT.

THIS GATE WILL BE ON EXHIBITION AT THE STATE FAIR!
When the Rights to the Counties of MARION, POLK, LINN, LANE, BENTON, JACKSON, JOSEPHINE, DOUGLAS, UMPQUA, COOS and CURRY will be offered for sale by my Agent.
The advantages of this gate may be summed up in this brief statement:
1st—being on a perfect balance and resting on a castor near the base, and between two posts, as may be seen in the diagram, there is no tendency to assume the posts from a perpendicular; it thus avoids the inconvenience so often experienced with the swing gate, that of dragging on the ground after a frost.
2d—It opens vertically and out of the way of the snow, mud and stones, requiring no additional space when open.
3d—It admits of more secure and cheaper fastenings, while it is also a stronger gate than any other of the same amount of lumber.
4th—It can be easily opened from a carriage, without halting the horse or getting out, and even the field gate, without leaving, can be opened easily by any one on horseback, and without leaving a rein.
5th—It is not only the most convenient gate, but can be made 66 per cent cheaper than any other kind now in use.
ANY SMART, ENTERPRISING CARPENTER CAN MAKE FIFTEEN TO THIRTY DOLLARS PER DAY MAKING THESE GATES.

Surf

Splendors of the morning the billow creats brighten,
Lightening and luring them on to the land—
Far away waves where the wan vessels whiten
Blue rollers breaking in surf where no stand
Cursed like the rocks that sit on the breast
Each with its fetch gold I name flowing free,
Mither they speed in pursuit its course,
Bearing thy riches O beautiful Sea

Strong with the striving of yesterday's surges
Lashed by the wast I wish to leap over in the shore
Each driven fast by its fellow urges
Fearlessly those that are fleeting before
How they leap over the ridges we walk on,
Flinging us gifts from the depths of the Sea—
Silvery fish for the foam hunting, falcon
Pulmwood and pearls for my darling and me'

Light falls her foot where the rift follows after,
Finer her hair than your feathery spray
Sweeter her voice than your billows laughter—
Last I we will overthrow O list to my lay
Deep in the chambers of gentle sea our rest
Morn leaves her jewels and bends her red knee;
Thence to my dear one your amber and coral
Bring, for her dowry O beautiful Sea'

Church Statistics.

The following statistics are gathered by the American Christian Commission from the reports of city missionary societies, city census, Bible societies, etc

Leavenworth, Kansas, has a population of 24 000. The members of Protestant churches are 2,293. At most, not over 3 000 persons of Leavenworth attend Protestant places of worship regularly, leaving 20 000 souls, or seven eighths of the population, not regularly reached by the Gospel.

St Joseph, Missouri, has a population of 19,000 It has ten Protestant churches, with a total membership of 1 609, and church sittings for 3 000, leaving 16,000 persons who could not be accommodated in the Protestant churches

St. Louis, Missouri, has a population of 204 327 Of these 171,743 are over five years of age The sittings in the evangelical churches number 2., 339, leaving 148,404 persons over five years of age who could not be accommodated in the evangelical churches, and yet those churches are seldom occupied. The number present by actual count, in all of those churches, on a pleasant Sabbath in October, 1864, was Morning service, 12,052, second service, 6,376; leaving, morning service, 11,207 vacant seats; second service, 14, 963.

In Chicago, 150,000 persons are without the influence of the Gospel, as preached from the pulpit Of these, 40,000 spend the Sabbath in saloons and German gardens

Boston, Massachusetts, has a population of 192,000. It has 100 places of worship, averaging 600 sittings, providing accommodations for 60,000, and leaving 132 000 for whom there is no place in the house of God.

In New York City, in a recent canvass of 22 wards, containing 4,726 families, 1,925 families were found professedly attending evangelical churches, 2,112 attending unevangelical churches, while 689 families, by their own confession, attended no church whatever.

New York City has a population of about 1 000,000 It has 375 Protestant churches, with sittings for 200,000, and a total membership of 64,000. It has 450 churches, chapels and missions of all kinds, with accommodations for 300,- 990, leaving about 700,000 in New York City on the Sabbath who could not attend religious service in the churches if they desired, and yet those churches are seldom all fully occupied

The population of Cleveland, Ohio, is 69,278 The number of sittings in all the churches, Protestant, Romanist and Jewish, is 27,200, leaving 42,078 persons in the city on the Sabbath for whom there is no room in the house of God, and and yet those churches show many vacant seats There are in that city 19,000 persons, over five years of age, who are never found in any place of public worship—1,271 families, no member of which attends any church

It is nearly one hundred years since the rise of Universalism in America It is probable that its Centenary will be celebrated in 1870, which year will complete a century from the landing in this country of John Murray, the father of the denomination. It now comprises about 700 Ministers and about 500 organized societies Of these, considerably more than two-thirds are found in New England and New York The States in which they seem to be strongest are, in the order named, New York, Massachusetts, Ohio, Maine, Vermont and Illinois. In New Jersey, which claims the honor of the "landing," there are but four societies and three preachers. More than a million of dollars was raised by them the last year for educational and missionary purposes, and for the erection of church edifices Seven newspapers and three magazines are published in the interest of Universalism, and the society has eleven educational institutions in this country, some of them well endowed

The whole number of ministers connected with the Reformed Dutch Church in this country is 452, of whom 107 are without pastoral charges The whole number of persons added to the 444 churches of this order during the past year is 4,- 284, or an average of about 10 to a church The sum contributed for purposes of general Christian benevolence during the year is $277,000.

The receipts of the American Board for June were $21,108 Last year, for the same month, they were $30,083 This shows an unpleasant falling off of about $9,000 for the month. For the ten months of the year up to July 1st, the receipts have been $300 950. Last year, for the same period, they were $312,941. The donations, however, have fallen off $22,843, while there has been a gain of $19,843 in legacies We learn that the receipts for the month of July put no more favorable aspect upon the matter

A Burglar Trapped —The New York correspondent of the Troy Times gives the following.

I was informed of a case in which a burglar was handsomely trapped a few nights since. The house of a resident of Brooklyn was entered about midnight and the occupant, Mr. ——, awakened As he arose in bed he saw standing in the room a rough looking man with a bludgeon in his hand.

"What do you want here?" inquired Mr. ——

"I want your money or your life," suddenly replied the thelf.

"You do, eh?" exclaimed Mr. ——, and he slipped his hand under his pillow and drew forth a splendid revolver.

"You do, eh?" he repeated, and sprang from the bed, presenting the revolver at the head of the thief

"Now, sir, I want your money or your life," he continued, still presenting his revolver. The thief "comprehended the situation at a glance" and fairly "shook in his boots" as he stammered, "I will go out, sir!" "No, you won't until you give me your money—then you may go?" The thief drew from his pocket $10 and handed the sum over. "Now I want your coat." This was delivered. "Now I will take your shirt, boots and pants" The thief complied, and stood naked. "Now, you may leave," said ——, "by the same way you came—through that window, down the shed and over the fence. And if ever I see you within fifty yards of this house again, day or night, I'll shoot you dead—so help me God!" The thief took his departure, and when he related his adventure next morning to the family, who were entirely undisturbed by it, he was obliged to exhibit his captured clothing and money to induce belief. He said that his first thought was to shoot the thief dead, but when he saw he was only armed with a club, he could not take any advantage of him, though he does not know what would have happened if the shirt, pants and boots had not been forthcoming

Was Ever Paul Married?—In referring to the affairs of this time at a later period he (Paul) says not only that he exercised his power by a commission from the high priest, but also, that when the followers of Christ were put to death he gave his vote against them He could only have given his as one of the Sanhedrim, and it may reasonably be doubted whether the very important commission which he subsequently received when he went to Damascus, would have been intrusted to any one who was not a member of that body—his introduction into which might be materially promoted by the fact that Gamaliel, whose favorite pupil he seems to have been, was its president Out of this arises an important consideration—that to be a parent was a condition of admission to that assembly, because those whose hearts were softened by paternal relations were supposed to be more humane, more inclined to mercy than others Baldes, among the Jews it was accounted scarcely reputable for a man to remain unmarried after eighteen years of age and marriages in general were very early If, however, Paul belonged to the Sanhedrim the probability is that he was at the time married and the father of a family But if so, it would seem that his wife and child, or children, did not long survive, for otherwise it is scarcely possible but that some allusion to them would be found in the Epistles and it is clear that if he ever had a wife, she was not living when he wrote the First Epistle to Corinthians —Alta

In Washington the building now going on greatly exceeds what has been known at any previous period of its history Senator Morgan is erecting three fine houses on the ample lot where his palatial residence stands, and Mr Kennedy has nearly completed three first class houses at the corner of Vermont avenue and 11th street. They will be occupied by Senators Sumner, Pomeroy and Nye.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

WEEKLY REVIEW

PORTLAND FRIDAY 2 P M., Oct 4 1867

Gold in New York yesterday was quoted at 144¼, buying tenders, in San Francisco, were not buying and 70¾ selling In this city they are taken by the trade at 70c brokers paying 69 @70

The past week has been the dullest of the whole year as regards the general trade of the city There is scarcely a wholesale house in the city but has had its hands full to get out current orders for goods—mostly from the merchants of the Willamette valley The plethora of stocks which a few months ago threatened to be to our merchants a commercial elephant have become so much reduced that the arrivals by steamer hardly suffice to answer the present demands Every steamer, of late, comes freighted with every pound she can carry and in most cases large amounts which dealers eagerly expected were left in the San Francisco warehouses Notwithstanding this the market is meagerly supplied with many staple articles and scarcely overstocked in any thing Our merchants, certainly have nothing of which to complain

The prospects for disposing of our breadstuffs at all points remain quite as rosy rarely ever brighter than at present The market at San Francisco is marked by a steady advance in price of wheat and flour Last night a dispatches quote Oregon extra flour, in quarters at $7 50 per 196 lbs Round lots of choice wheat have been refused at an offer of $2 30 per 100 lbs and good shipping lots are quoted at $2 20@$2 25 This buoyant tone of course, is the result mainly of the demand for the New York and various foreign markets A late New York commercial report says "Light receipts during the week together with the advance in gold and the reports from the country that the crops were not as favorable as anticipated have caused an advance in all kinds of grain Never since 1837, has the market held so small a stock of old wheat and the supply of new winter wheat is not up to the present expectation The crop of winter wheat is not above that of 1863 " The Alta California of the 26th, on the prospects of an European demand for grain has the following "The point of great interest at this moment is the condition of the crops abroad It is the moment of uncertainty in the English and French harvests which seem to be thus far in a condition not widely different from what was the case last year Our last mail dates gave us the following summary The English harvest was assumed to be below an average, and the future of prices depended upon supplies from abroad In Southern Russia the crop was reported about the same as last year In Austria the crop is very abundant and the result of the harvest in Hungary is equally satisfactory In Gallicia the crop has suffered from floods and heavy storms Weshall consequently receive large supplies from Hungary and Austria via the Danube and Trieste In Prussia, the results so far, does not appear to be unfavorable As to France, the harvest has proved rather unsatisfactory, nevertheless it is a better crop than last year, and she may feed herself In Spain Portugal and Algeria, the crops of wheat have been partial failures The accounts from Algeria represent that the crop has entirely failed From the foregoing remarks it may be observed that, excluding the United States, our prospect as regards a foreign wheat supply is equal to last year Assuming, therefore, that we receive no supplies from your side, there is no cause at present for a rise in prices so long as the weather continues fine But as I have already mentioned, we anticipate a large supply of wheat and flour from the United States, and it is in accordance with the extent of our imports of American produce that prices will decline on this side "

The arrivals of produce, during the week have been very free, especially by wagon the fine weather and excellent condition of the roads being peculiarly favorable The receipts of bacon are large—rather over the present demand—and prices are consequently tending down We quote sides jobbing at 11c and hams at 18c@20c shoulders unchanged There is no demand for the latter and the quotation is nominal Bacon from wagon is worth 9c to 11c, according to quality Lard is weak at 10c@11c in 10 lb cans. Wheat is selling readily at 80c to 90c per bushel of 60 lbs Butter is scarcer and choice, in brine, has advanced to 20c@22c

In groceries, the trade of the last week has been a rushing one. There are few changes to note in quotations Coffee is firm at ½¢ advance. Sugars are firm at quotations, though it is not probable that prices will advance further, at present. The Multnomah which arrived on Thursday brought 1 750 bags from the Islands, but in the present condition of the market, it will all be readily taken by interior merchants at full rates At a recent auction sale, at San Francisco, by Aldrich, Morrill & Co., of Island sugars, the terms were, for all sums under $500, cash over that sum and under $1,000, notes payable Oct 27th, and for larger sums, November 20th The first four lots upon the catalogue were from James Makee's Plantation, and were of extra choice quality, and upon which a duty of four cents per pound was paid These 533 hf bbls sold in lots at $13@13 12½, a small lot of very superior Golden brought $13 75—this was made by N. George—and had there been 500 instead of six, it would have readily brought the money The balance of the offering—say 2,200 hf bbls—was disposed of within the range of $12 37½@11 92½; an invoice of 117 kegs dark, sold at $9 05@9 37½, and 11 bags inferior $8 per 100 lbs The Hellenburg brings the report that the commercial agent of the San Francisco and Pacific Sugar Refinery, now at Honolulu had several interviews with planters, with a view of securing the sugar crop of the Hawaiian Islands for two years, to be made into refinery grades between Nos 11 and 12 At last accounts, regulations were still pending The prospect of the speedy inauguration of a reciprocity treaty between this country and the Hawaiian Islands, made planters rather chary of entering into any such contract as proposed In the meantime, however, under limited contracts with some of the planters, liberal supplies of refinery grades will continue to be received

Hardware—prices except nails, unchanged Business very much improved There are several buyers from east of the mountains, in the city, laying in full stocks

Dry goods—we were correct in our surmise, last week, that staple goods had about reached their lowest figures, since goods in that line are quoted as firm at present prices and we feel warranted in the presumption that there will be no further decline this season The market is moderately supplied The heavy cargoes by each steamer have thus far failed to be in excess of current wants Wholesale merchants are urging their freights up and there need be no fear but that good assortments can be found at all times The Willamette valley merchants are at present the best purchasers in the line of fall stocks Most of the goods now going forward to the Upper Columbia country, are more particularly intended for the early Spring trade, rather than for present demands
